Sixth Judicial Circuit Judicial Assistant Is New Head of Statewide Group

CLEARWATER – Jerri Evans, judicial assistant to Sixth Judicial Circuit Judge Irene Sullivan, is the new president of the Judicial Assistants Association of Florida (JAAF), a 300-member statewide organization.

Ms. Evans was installed as president last week during the group's annual summer conference at the Tradewinds Island Resort on St. Pete Beach. Judge Sullivan served as the installing officer.

Ms. Evans has worked in the Sixth Circuit since 1999, when Judge Sullivan began her judicial service. Ms. Evans – involved in the local legal community since 1981 – is the only person to ever be elected by Suncoast Tiger Bay Club Board of Directors to serve consecutive terms as president of that group. She also has been involved with numerous other civic organizations, including Suncoast Voices for Children and the Pinellas Enrichment Through Mental Health Services (PEMHS) Post Detention Coordination Advisory Council.

JAAF was formed in 1988 with the support of the Florida Conference of County Court Judges, who wanted to assist judicial assistants with learning about the various court divisions and continuing career education.
