

Procedures for Setting a Hearing on Motions
Pasco Child Support Hearing Officer

Before the Child Support Hearing Officer can hear your case, you must first put in writing what you are asking the court to do and why. Usually this is in the form of a Motion.

In order to get a hearing on your motion you must:

1. Complete the attached form and file the original with the clerk of the circuit court in the county where your child support order was entered. Please keep a copy of the motion for your records. If your child support order was entered in another state or if the child(ren) live in another state, you should speak to an attorney about where to file this form.
2. Mail copies of the motion to:

Department of Revenue
2127 Grand Blvd. #100
Holiday, Florida 34690

AND

Office of the Attorney General/Child Support Enforcement
P.O. Box 3342
St. Petersburg, FL 33731

AND

The other party (Custodial Parent/Relative or Non-Custodial Parent) or their attorney. Visit the clerk's office and review the court file for the other party's address.

3. Once the Motion is mailed, the Office of the Attorney General/Child Support Enforcement will schedule a hearing.

Additional information for self-represented parties is available at www.jud6.org, www.flcourts.gov and the Legal Resource Center located in the West Pasco Judicial Center, 7530 Little Road, New Port Richey, FL, Room 103 and the Robert D.
